Top Ten Reasons Students Succeed in Anatomy and Physiology I

1. You are interested in Anatomy and Physiology and seek answers to questions that come to mind.

2. You have completed a college (1000 level) English Course and a college-level Math course.

3. You are organized and plan ahead.

4. You have already completed Biology 1100 – Biological Chemistry – or a General Chemistry course.

5. You have successfully completed a general biology course within the last three years.

6. You study two hours outside of class for every hour in class.

7. You are on-time for Anatomy and Physiology I and keep your ‘head in the game’ throughout the lecture and lab periods.

8. You complete your reading on a topic before the lecture on that topic.

9. You get all the points for homework (if offered) you can by completing it on time.

10. You are not overloaded with classes in the same semester you take Anatomy and Physiology.
